GLENSKIRLIE HISTORY

Our history speaks volume...

Glenskirlie first emerged more than a quarter of a century ago, initially launching as a family-run restaurant with an emphasis on quality food and first-class service.

Operated by its founders John Macaloney and his late wife Linda, Glenskirlie soon became a destination venue, popular with discerning diners seeking fine food in fantastic surroundings.

As the years passed, Glenskirlie evolved - the dining areas were extended and refurbished and a new purpose built function suite designed and created to meet a demand for bespoke conferences, private dining and events.

At the beginning of the new century the foundations were laid for the next chapter in the Glenskirlie story. Scotland's first newly built castle of the 21st century opened its doors, extending the facilities and introducing exquisitely appointed hotel rooms complete with sumptuous beds, the best bed linens and the finest accessories.

Over the years Glenskirlie's name has attracted a number of awards and has received critical acclaim for its food and service alike.

Our team here are proud of our history and our accolades and we take great pride in continuing the fine traditions of first-class service and exceptional food.

We now look forward to welcoming you and your guests when you next visit Glenskirlie.
